Chemical Peels

These treatments improve the appearance of skin and treat many skin conditions by removing the superficial skin layers and targeting damaged cells. The strength of peel used is chosen on an individual basis depending on the degree of your skin condition and the result you desire. With this service a complimentary skin evaluation will be performed and the specific type and grade of peel performed will be customized to each individual's skin type. Generally either Salicylic Acid or Glycolic Acid is used for light to medium grade peels.

Light Peel: This light peel is designed to show immediate skin improvement with little to no downtime. The result is a healthier, radiant, more youthful complexion.

Medium Peel: Our medium peel renews the entire epidermis, rejuvenating as well as eliminating damaged skin. This process takes a few days, and reveals new, fresh, healthy skin.

Physician Strength Trichloroacetic Acid (TCA) Peel: This high concentration peel revitalizes skin and eradicates pre-malignant skin lesions. Results include tighter skin, reduction of fine lines & wrinkles, more even tone and texture, lightened pigmented spots and smaller pore size. This strength of peel must be applied by a physician and provides the maximum level of improvement. 3 treatments are usually required for optimum results. Most people are able to return to their normal social routine in 5-7 days with make-up.
